

Pointed Ridge is used as a capping to the roof; it acts as a seal and also secures all the tiles tight in place.

They suit all roof pitches, shallow or deep, and can be used on many other roofing products such as slate, natural stone etc, "they are often a cheaper alternative". They can be made in different colours to match different roofing products.

We highly recommend these for our Conservation Range and for projects where a more natural finish is required.

These are professionally hand crafted and come in :

2 Ft (600 mm) lengths
